Headline:
Rain clearing to scattered showers and sunny spells. Windy.

Today:
Cloudy and wet at first. This will clear to warm sunny spells and scattered, potentially heavy showers. Sunny spells continuing during the afternoon while showers becoming less frequent from the west. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
Turning cloudy with scattered showers lingering through the early evening, before a band of showery rain appears from the west and persists overnight. Remaining mild, with winds easing overnight. Minimum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Wednesday:
A largely cloudy start with scattered showers. Turning brighter, but some heavy, possibly thundery showers for a time through the afternoon, before easing from the west later. Feeling fairly warm. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Scattered showers and sunny spells on Thursday, heavy and perhaps thundery. Drier with variable cloud on Friday and the odd shower. Showery rain arrives on Saturday. Warm in any sunshine.
